Observations... From Around Town

(BY JAY WHOZIT)

The election of last Saturday is now history, and the voters voiced their opinion in such a way as to leave no doubt in the minds of the public as to the man they wish to serve as their city commissioner for the next three and a half years . . . Mr. J. Cyril Glover was elected by nearly a two to one majority, and it is our hope that the public, regardless of political alliance or choice in this election, will rally to the support of the entire city commission council for the betterment of our city and their own welfare . . . when we were kids in school, the most coveted award we could receive was the one given for sportsmanship, a real honor, so let's show that sportsmanship now, whether we were winners or losers, and show that we can take defeat as well as victory, congratulate the winner and offer him and his associates our support . . . the Mississippi Press Association meets in Biloxi this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Buena Vista Hotel . . . the Knights of Columbus will hold a coast-wide initiation here on Sunday, June 12, and will dedicate the occasion in honor of Mr. Joseph O. Mauffray, a charter member of the local Pere LeDuc Council . . . Neilus Favre, the publisher's son, will be married on Saturday morning, at Our Lady of the Gulf church, to Miss Ethel Lader, of Ansley . . . our sincere congratulations and best wishes to them for a long life of health and happiness together . . . classes in sewing and home-making, under the direction of Mrs. Ernest Erwin, Bay High home economics teacher, began this week at Bay High school, and are open free to any young ladies who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity . . . if anyone in Hancock county has not yet registered in accordance with the general registration of all voters now being conducted by the county registrar and ordered by the board of supervisors, he had better do so before July 1 or he will be ineligible to vote in the next election . . . anyone strolling along the beachfront the past few moonlight nights would get the impression that he was walking along a city boulevard, judging from the number of flounders and softshell enthusiasts, carrying their gasline lights and oil torches . . . we understand that "Bill" Witter will succeed Cyril Glover as city gas division superintendent, good luck, Bill . . . the new city commissioner, J. Cyril Glover, is expected to take his oath of office today, following receipt of his official commission from Jackson . . . Camp Stanislaus will open this Sunday and will continue for five weeks . . . Miss Katherine Wright, of Pascagoula, was chosen "Miss Hospitality" at the coronation ceremonies held in Biloxi on Wednesday . . . Governor and Mrs. Wright and their daughter were present at the crowning.

Other officers elected are: Ann Kenmar, secretary; George Kramer, treasurer; Jack Drescher, reporter; and Watson Johns, Curtis Taconi, and Billy Burrow, librarians.

Twenty-two musicians attended the initial meeting while 33 players were signed for the band. These include four cornets, four French horns, ten clarinets, two trombones, seven saxophones, one flute, one bass tuba, one baritone and two drums.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS ENDS JUNE 31; SIGN NOW TO QUALIFY

At the January meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, a resolution was adopted directing the County registrar to have a new registration of the voters of each precinct of Hancock County as provided by section 3222 of the Code of 1942.

By order of the Board the registration was to be completed on or before the first day of June, 1949 and after the first day of June the new registration was to be in full force and effect. The old registration books were to be of no further use and would be void except in the case of an election within five months of the first day of February, 1949.

In that event both the old and new registration books were to be used to determine the qualified electors of the County.

The five month period expires July 1, 1949. Persons who have heretofore been qualified voters of Hancock County and who do not re-register prior to July 1, 1949 will therefore not be allowed to vote in any election held thereafter, unless they are registered four months prior to said election.

A. C. Mitchell, Clerk of Courts of Hancock County, has visited the various precincts of the County to facilitate the re-registration of the voters. Up until this time many persons have not re-registered and it behooves every formally qualified elector to register prior to July 1, 1949. It will be necessary for those who have not re-registered to call at the office of the Clerk of Courts of the County in order to effect their new registration.

Under the new registration can only visit the precincts of the County to register voters on one day in the year, and he must give advance notice of the time and date.

We cannot urge upon you how imperative it is that you re-register. If you are a resident and citizen of Bay St. Louis and Waveland you can not qualify as an elector in either municipality unless you are a registered, qualified voter in the County; and if you do not re-register in the County your qualifications as a voter in the municipalities will be voided.

Remember July 1 is the last day for you to re-register.

E. P. Bell Produces First Silk For Commercial Use On Kiln Farm

The first commercial cocoon silk ever raised in Mississippi was harvested last week on the farm of Edward Price Bell located near Kiln.

The crop was taken to the Gulfport Freeze Plant to be refrigerated prior to shipment to the American Silk Corporation at Minerals, Texas. Mr. Bell stated: "He has been experimenting in raw silk production for two years and is of the opinion that silk, more than ever before, has become of paramount importance to the United States."

"Because of unsettled conditions," Mr. Bell added, "especially in those countries of the Far East, China in particular, upon which the United States has relied for its silk supply up to the present, it has been increasingly important to have a source of our own grown silk, and there is no better place than the south Mississippi area in which to grow it."

By Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr.

Your vote in last Saturday's election is an indication of the type of government you desire. I rejoice with you in your selection of a man whom I believe will work for the interest of the public.

LOCAL SKIPPERS WIN THIRD HONORS IN CHANDLER CUP RACE

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club won the opening race of the Asa Chandler trophy fish-class races in Panama City Saturday. Representing the club in the race were Skipper John J. McDonald and his two nephews C. C. McDonald, Jr. and Dave McDonald.

The McDonalds set the pace at the start of the nine-mile course and relinquished the lead only in the second lap when Ves Lowe, skipper of the Sarasota Yacht club, overtook them. But the McDonalds soon recaptured the lead and finished the race three boat lengths ahead of the Sarasota entrant.

This race marked the initial entry of the newly organized Bay-Waveland club in interclub competition. In the order of finishes Biloxi finished third, Pass Christian fourth, St. Petersburg, fifth, Pensacola, sixth, Gulfport seventh, Mobile eighth, Southern ninth, St. Andrew's Bay tenth, Buccaneer eleventh and Fairhope Yacht Club of Mobile came in last.

In the three race series, the McDonalds accumulated enough points to place third. "Finishing first" was Biloxi with Sarasota second.

The much coveted perpetual silver trophy is donated by Asa C. Chandler of Atlanta, Ga.

In the Lightning Class races at the Pass Christian Yacht club, the Bay-Waveland skippers were Jack Bell and Sonny Wolfe, representing the club took six points and the Pass Christian skippers, four points.

SUMMER RECREATION PROGRAM SIGNS 70

More than 70 boys registered Monday and Tuesday for the summer recreation program now under way. Coach Ellis Guillory said Wednesday.

During the season the boys, ranging in age from 7 to 15 years, will participate in various activities and organized sports, Coach Guillory added.

Tuesday, the first swimming class was held at the Merchant Marine School natatorium on Henderson street. Practically all those who had registered took part in this initial activity.

Softball practice is scheduled to begin this week, the Coach asserted. The group has been divided into two leagues, the division being determined by age. Each league consists of three teams who will vie for the league championship.

Games are to be played under the lights at Morreale's Park. A parade through the city will precede the opening game which will take place as soon as the uniforms arrive, Guillory said.

The uniforms, furnished by six local concerns who sponsor the teams, will be T-shirts with the sponsor's name on them and baseball caps. Coach Guillory expresses satisfaction with the progress made by the program in its early stages, and urges all boys to register and to "join in the fun."

The newly elected officers will be installed at the first meeting in July, the exact date of which will be announced by the District Deputy.

Cyril J. Glover, recently elected commissioner of finance, will be sworn into office at a simple ceremony Friday or Saturday morning in the Mayor's office pending arrival of his commission from the secretary of state at Jackson, Sylvan J. Ladner, commissioner of public utilities, said Thursday.

As of press time Thursday evening, the commission had not arrived. Glover was elected to the post in a special election last Saturday, carrying the city by approximately a two to one majority. The ballot breakdown is as follows:

Of 1129 votes cast, Glover received 393 in the north box and 323 in the south for a total of 716. His opponent, J. C. Roland, Jr., polled 163 in the north box, 209 in the south to total 392. Twelve ballots were voided.

Glover has served as superintendent of the natural gas division in Bay St. Louis for 5 months. He made an unsuccessful bid for the commission council in the primary election last year. The recent special election was called to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of former commissioner W. L. Bourgeois.

Mayor Carver, Commissioner Ladner and Glover will now constitute the city administration.

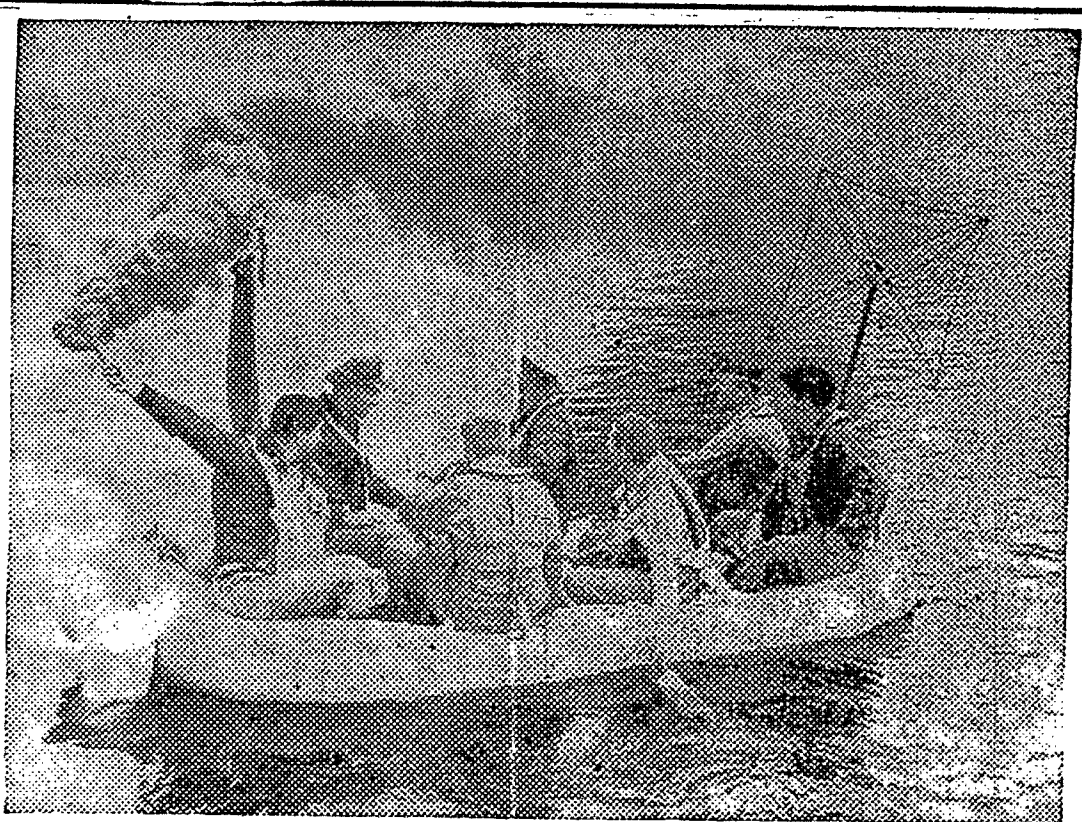

BEACH REPAIRS IN BAY ST. LOUIS TO BEGIN SOON; SOME BIDS TAKEN

Repairs on the Bay St. Louis portion of Beach Blvd. will be in the near future, Ed Orte, president of the Hancock County board of supervisors, said Wednesday.

A plan whereby as much as $6,000 may be added to the bond issue and earmarked for storm repairs is now being considered.

Meanwhile, the County board of supervisors has accepted H. L. Pittman's bid for $5,000 on the dragline, and T. E. Keller's bid on shell to be used in making the repairs. Bids were also accepted on purchase of road machinery from the Watkins-Aldridge Supply Co. and the Mississippi Road Supply Co.

Bids for labor and additional materials will be advertised soon.

Afloat in their rubber raft, Naval Air Reserve members try out equipment used for survival and attracting rescuers after a plane is forced down at sea. At extreme left, a smoke flare is pressed into action, and at right a radar reflector has been set up to attract the radar mechanism on a search plane. The large orb is a balloon which may be sent aloft to carry a radio antenna. The raft is being guided by hand paddles which can be lengthened to propel it more rapidly.

Pascagoula Girl Crowned Miss Hospitality In Biloxi

Katherine Wright of Pascagoula was crowned "Miss Hospitality" at Biloxi Wednesday night. She will reign over the Mississippi agricultural and industrial board's program to make the state tourist-conscious and bring a greater travel industry to Mississippi.

When Governor Fielding L. Wright crowned the 20-year-old University of Mississippi student a two-day program on the Gulf coast to name the state's first travel queen was climaxed.

A student of voice in the University music school, Miss Wright was elected from 38 young Mississippi women representing as many cities and towns throughout the state. As "Miss Hospitality" Miss Wright's official duties will be to represent the state in travel shows and exhibitions by Mississippi. Selected as alternate to Miss Wright was Miss Amelia Penly Daly, 21 year-old daughter of Mrs. Sylvia Daly of Hattiesburg.

Representatives of cities which have officially adopted the community travel program recommended by the agricultural and industrial board will continue to serve as representatives from their areas in travel promotional activities.

WHAT WILL THE ANSWER BE?

The results of the special election held in the city of Bay St. Louis last Saturday to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of W. L. Bourgeois, commissioner of finance, should bring very forcibly to the attention of the Mayor that a large majority of the people are not willing to accept the leadership that he has offered the city during his tenure of office.

At the time of his induction into office, Mayor Carver was extremely popular, and far stronger than he was at the time of his election last summer. He entered upon his duties, the most popular young man ever to take public office.

Mayor Carver disregarded the will of his people. One of his first official acts was to introduce a resolution to place a tax on slot machines operating in the city and owned by a group of unscrupulous men, purporting to be political and business leaders, whose sole ambition is to accumulate a fortune of blood money. This money is not taken from the rich, who could probably afford to lose, but from the poor and needy of our community who take a chance, hoping to add to their little mite to buy the necessities of life—eventually ending up deprived of them—and from the school children, who oft times spend their lunch money and go without food throughout the day.

In the introduction of Ordinance 118, which provided for this tax, the Mayor's resolution cast an indictment upon his people. He is police commissioner, yet he charged that the law could not be enforced, and that the people of Bay St. Louis were responsible for this condition. Mayor Carver knew and knows at this time that all that is necessary is for him to instruct his chief of police to enforce the law.

We had hoped that he would see the folly of his actions in associating and allowing himself to be controlled by this unscrupulous element and in allowing his city to aid in protecting a group whose sole objective it is to corrupt public officers through bribery and graft.

The issues were clearly drawn between Mayor Carver and commissioner Sylvan Ladner in the election Saturday. The two young men who were contestants in the race became side issues and the personality of neither was a factor in the election. They were completely isolated by partisanship. The citizens of Bay St. Louis made their choice. Selecting the one they felt was not dominated by the group they have been seeking to remove from control.

On many occasions Mr. Carver expressed a desire to serve his City as Mayor stating that he wanted to render a real service to his community. He has had, and again has an opportunity to do so. Will he seize it or will he try to continue to force his rule and that of the racketeers upon his people, who have openly repudiated him, and who have not accepted and do not want his leadership?

The people of Bay St. Louis have spoken. What will his answer be??

PONTIAC

Two of America's Most Popular Motor Cars

Pictured above are typical examples of the two smart and separate lines of cars which bear the current imprint of Pontiac goodness—the Streamliner and the Chieftain De Luxe Sedan Coupes.

Each is in such demand that, on its own, it ranks among America's most popular cars today. That two cars of such decidedly different appearance should each enjoy such wide acceptance is easy to explain. THEY'RE BOTH PONTIACS!

While each has its own individualized smartness, both offer all the great basic Pontiac virtues. Both are conspicuously beautiful. Both carry the well-known promise of Pontiac quality—long life, dependability, and fine performance. Both afford the smooth, enjoyable performance of Pontiac's two great engines—the power-packed straight eight or its equally famous six-cylinder companion.

Finally, both represent unusual values—a very fine product at a very low price. Either one you choose will make you mighty happy.

NEW BAPTIST CHURCH IS DEDICATED DURING DAY LONG SERVICE

The new Baptist church building, on Highway 90 was dedicated on Sunday, June 5 at an all day service.

There was the usual Sunday school session from 10 to 11 a. m. and at 11 Dr. R. W. Langham, preached the dedication sermon. Dinner was served on the grounds.

From 1:45 to 2 P. M. there was congregational singing led by Donald A. Bennet, followed by an interesting history of the Corinth Baptist church by T. E. Keller.

The Union Baptist church quartette sang two sacred selections and Rev. S. P. Powell, pastor, Ceasar Baptist church gave a short talk on "The Building of a Church." He took as three reasons why churches should be built—Building a church is fun;

ARMY WARNS AGAINST UNEXPLODED SHELLS

Early this year, five persons were killed and two injured by the explosion of a shell, which was removed from a former Army installation for the purpose of sale to a scrap dealer.

Recently six unexploded projectiles were located in a scrap yard in the Third Army area.

Several instances have been reported within the Third Army area recently where individuals have trespassed onto inactive artillery impact areas, and have picked up such unexploded projectiles or "duds" and have sold them to scrap iron and metal dealers.

The public is warned of the inherent dangers of removing unexploded projectiles from impact areas and that it is illegal for anyone to trespass on these areas. It is also unlawful to purchase or sell material removed from impact areas without proper authority and inspection.

Extension Horticulturist Makes Recommendations On Handling Potato Crop

Much damage and loss in the Irish potato crop, which will be harvested in Mississippi during the first part of this month, will be prevented if proper care is taken in harvesting and handling the crop, according to Chesley Hines, extension horticulturist.

These recommendations apply to both commercial growers and farmers with a home patch of Irish potatoes.

Mr. Hines advises that harvesting be delayed until potatoes are well matured in order to obtain maximum yields and to prevent "feathering" of the skin. Potatoes are ready to dig when top growth stops, as shown by the leaves turning yellow and brown.

The farmer, Mr. Hines urges, should dig potatoes under dry soil conditions if possible, set the plow deep enough to prevent cutting the vegetable, and pick them up as soon as dug to prevent sunscald and blistering. Fifteen minutes of hot sunshine can scald the potatoes, although the damage cannot be seen immediately.

In extremely hot weather, dig only in early morning and late afternoon, and handle potatoes as carefully and as little as possible to prevent bruising.

For harvesting and transporting potatoes, crates and hampers are preferable to sacks; while in the field keep containers covered to prevent sunscald, and remove to a cool, shady place as quickly as possible, Mr. Hines stated.

Sort out all cut, bruised and decayed potatoes in the field at the time of packing.

As a final safety measure, Mr. Hines, says that potatoes should never be put in large piles, but preferably left in crates or hampers.

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY PROVIDES FOR FAMILY ON DEATH OF WORKER

Your Federal old age and survivors insurance, which will provide income for your old age, also provides protection for your family in the event of your death, at any age.

If a worker dies "fully insured" under this part of the Social Security Act, monthly insurance payments will go to: His children until they are 18 years old; his widow, if she has such child in her care; his widow, if he is 65 or older, or when she reaches 65.

If a worker leaves no widow or child, his parents may qualify for monthly insurance payments at the age of 65, but only if they were dependant on him.

Lump-sum death payments are made where there is no one eligible to claim a monthly insurance payment.

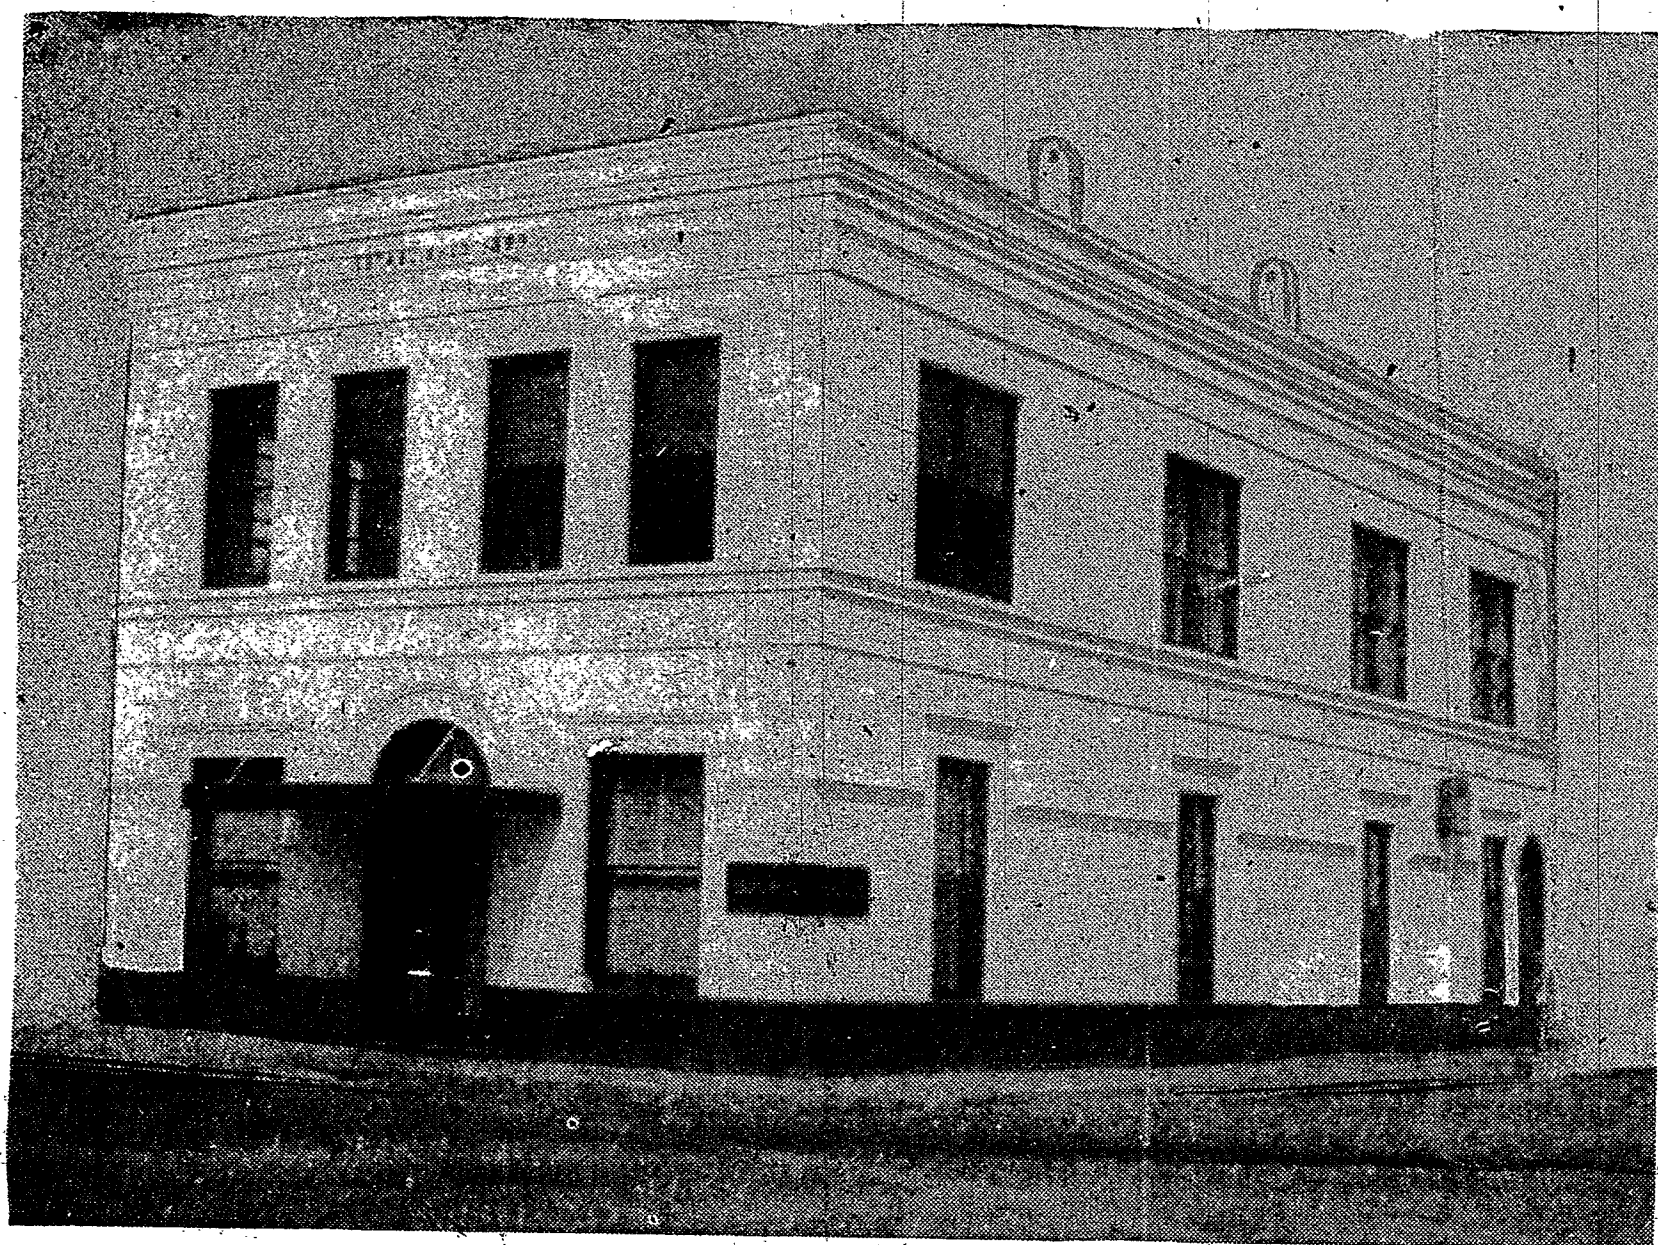

A worker is "fully insured" if he has worked and has been paid at least $50 a quarter (under social security for one half the quarters after January 1, 1937, or after age 21, and before the quarter of death).

A wage earner who has worked and has been paid at least $50 a quarter for 6 out of the last 13 quarters of his life may be "currently insured" if he is not "fully insured." In this case, monthly insurance payments will be made to a young child, or to a widow with such a child in her care, or a lump-sum payment may be made.

This is the fourth in a series of articles on "Your Social Security." In our next issue we shall discuss "Social Security for Veterans."

For further information consult your local Social Security Administration Field Office.

Revolution in Mississippi

Added testimony appears in print, almost daily, bearing upon the industrial and agricultural progress of Mississippi.

Coronet Magazine for May publishes an article under the title "Revolution in Mississippi," which reviews the state's "Balance Agriculture with Industry" program, initiated under the governorship of Hugh L. White and continued under Gov. Fielding Wright. "A far-reaching new program to balance agriculture and industry," states the author, "is bringing vast changes and enriching the state." The article shows some of the improvements that factories and payrolls have wrought in better homes and schools and living conditions, with a leap of 237 percent in the state's purchasing power.

The total value of Mississippi's manufactured goods has increased from $175,000,000 in 1940 to $915,000,000 in 1948. Joseph K. Heyman, Southeastern Business Consultant, states in a recent news release that Mississippi led the Southeastern States in rural electrification through a period covered between Jan. 1945 and June 1948. The number of Mississippi farms electrified in 1948 was 35 times as great as the number in 1935.

There is an agricultural-industrial revolution in full swing in Mississippi, and potentialities in development give promise of exceeding anything her people have achieved.

On our enterprising and progressive Mississippi Coast we are in step with these significant strides. Local industries are in production and imports and exports at the Port of Gulfport are breaking records.

Prosperity has come to Mississippi and we are on the verge of even bigger things. By providing a wholesome climate for industrial expansion and by working together in harmony we can make Mississippi's revolution one of peace and plenty.

Hancock-County Conservation Commission Reports

To The People of Hancock County

Soil Conservation District:

Mr. Otto Roster, Chairman, Board of Commissioners: Gentlemen, let's come to order. The Commissioners are all present and we have some ten or fifteen cooperators of Hancock County Soil Conservation District present with us this morning.

We would like very much to make out a report to the people of Hancock County as to what has been done during the past year and what we expect to do in the coming year.

In addition to this we would like for each of the cooperators present to speak out and tell us their experience with the Soil Conservation District and what it has meant to them. Mr. Bishop has prepared 40 farm plans covering a total of 3,447 acres during this past year and has established one or more conservation practices on 129 farms.

The following practices have been planned and applied during this past year:

Practices Planned Applied

Contour Farming 1187 913

Cover cropping 931 865

Crop residue management 931 535

Strip cropping 39 14

Alfalfa & per. grasses 43 65

Firebreaks 12 15

Fish Ponds 12 9

The Commissioners together with Mr. Bishop and Mr. Morris have worked out what we think is a good year's work and Mr. Bishop and his aids intend to accomplish it during the coming year. I would like very much to call your attention to the fact that the terracing program in Hancock County, in my opinion, is probably the best organized and planned piece of work of any district in the south. We have a vector who follows the men who lay out terraces and builds these terraces on cooperators' places and cooperators are very anxious for this type of work. In fact, I am sure that Mr. Bishop has gotten more work out of cooperators in Hancock County during this past twelve months than any man has ever gotten out of farmers in our county in five times that length of time. Our goals for the current year are as follows:

Practices	No. Farms	Amount To Date
Contour farming	Ac. 45	1129
Cover cropping	Ac. 58	1050
Crop residue management	Ac. 65	1555
Strip Cropping	Ac. 5	30
Pasture Improvement	Ac. 33	533
Seeding of Pasture	Ac. 33	833
Wildlife area improvement	Ac. 12	36

Farm ponds	No. 11	11
Terraces	MI. 45	93

Farm drainage	Ac. 2	51

With that we Commissioners of Hancock County set up a priority list for the Work Unit Conservationist, Mr. Bishop, to develop plans on that is by communities and we Commissioners thought that in order to be the leaders in this District we should be the very first operators within the District. Therefore, we were the first cooperators.

If I am not mistaken, my farm was number one.

In the beginning a survey map was made of my farm and a farm plan was worked out. Before the farm plan was worked out I thought I had to plant corn, potatoes, cane and other row crops if I were to make a living on my farm. I had tractor equipment with cultivating attachments and such like implements.

Since this plan has been developed for me I am now growing practically all close growing crops. The only equipment I have is a tractor, disk and a mower. Before the plan was worked out on my farm it was nip and tuck with me. I now can see the light by growing all close growing crops and letting my cattle graze it. This plan has been in effect since 1946 and we are well on the way and it is paying off.

My plan calls for the development of 200 acres of permanent and temporary pastures with me planting and establishing from 10 to 20 acres of permanent and temporary pastures each year. I am increasing my livestock accordingly. I now have some 20 acres of White Dutch Clover, Dallas Grass and Lespedeza that were started two years ago. I am getting some good grazing from it. Last fall Mr. Bishop got me to plant a trial planting of Fescue and Bahai Grass. It was well fertilized with 5-10-5 fertilizer, 500 pounds of superphosphate and 500 pounds of basic slag and seeded to reseed-ing Crimson Clover. The Fescue 31 is up and I have a good stand. I needed some extra grazing so I turned 40 head of cows on it and they grazed it down in a few days. I got 200 grazing days on this five acres before the cattle got it grazed down too close. I think grazing helps it makes it spread. I plan to add 200 pounds of Nitrate of Soda per acre and get some seed off of it this year. Next year I expect it to be better because I have seen what it did for Mr. George Spiers. My Bahai Grass hasn't come up yet. The other pasture is good.

I have my place so arranged that I have three pastures. In each pasture I have a pond built. These ponds, in addition to furnishing water for my cattle are stocked with fish and furnish me plenty of recreation. Two of the ponds have been fertilized; the other has just recently been constructed.

I have 6 acres of Kudzu established for temporary grazing and am going to plant Sericea as temporary pasture this year. I believe that for every two acres of permanent pasture we should have one of temporary pasture and that is the way it is planned on my place. I am putting out slash pine. I put out 7,000 last year and plan to put out approximately the same number this year.

I would like to state that in the beginning from 1946 to 1947 we accomplished very little in the District but it is beginning to show up now. I didn't hardly know what Soil Con-

—A little article titled "How To Kill A Town," which I quote in part can well be applied to any town of today; instead of doing these things which will kill a town, the opposite should be done so that the community might benefit.

"Give everybody who has made mistakes a kick that will send them down the hill."

"Be sure to sit up, the 'stool of do nothing,' gossip about your neighbors and dip your noses into other people's business."

"Be sure to send to Chicago for the cheap house catalogues and compare the price of your merchant's honest goods with their shoddy ones."

"Send to some city for some article quoted at 45 cents, which your home merchant has the presumption to charge 50 cents for and then pay over 25 cents express like a man."

"Go to some other town to get your printing done and patronize outside newspapers to the exclusion of your own."

"Pitch into everyone, rough shod, who dares to disagree with you as to the best methods of increasing the prosperity of the town. Keep up divided public sentiment at any cost."

"Scout the idea of the town being able to support any enterprise or business which it does not have, or another of the kind already supported."

"Make an estimate of the number of failures (of people) and tell every stranger who comes to town that he would do the same were he to attempt to do anything."

"If this receipt fails to kill your town go away and hide. If it succeeds, go and hang yourself."

—Mrs. Lucien M. Gex and accomplished daughters Misses Nina and Vickey returned from a stay in New Orleans.

—Misses Adrienne and Alice deLappe returned to their home in New Orleans after a summer's stay with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. de Montluzin.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Who is this Man?

Now and then, in the pages of the Herald, I run a biographical quiz, under the heading of "Who is This Man?" For instance... "He was one of the earliest lovers in American history..." "And yet he was too shy to court a woman outright..." "He came to the New World on the Mayflower..." "A cooper to repair the beer barrels accompanying the Pilgrims..."

"Who is this man?" I thought that everybody was stumped. But not Ole Miss Hopkins, who returned the clipping to me with "John Alden" on it. She recognized all the clues — including that reference to "beer" and "cooper."

For Miss Hopkins—who's read her history, knows that beer as the beverage of moderation, is as old in this land of ours as the never-ending American search for tolerance which brought the Pilgrims over to this country in the first place.

More OIL & GAS!

During the early years of the petroleum industry wells were often drilled so close together that the derricks were only a few feet apart. Each operator engaged in a mad race with his neighbors, all endeavoring to draw as much oil and gas from the common reservoir as possible before the field became exhausted.

But as petroleum engineering developed it was learned that such practices were wasteful. Closely bunched wells and too rapid withdrawals caused whole sections of producing sands to be by-passed by encroaching water, leaving a large percentage of the oil and gas in the ground.

Mississippi's oil and gas conservation law protects the public interest as well as the rights of each owner. To ensure maximum recovery, the Oil and Gas Board is authorized to regulate spacing of wells and to control production where necessary in order "to prevent waste."

These and other conservation measures are of vital interest to every citizen for what helps the sound development of our oil and gas resources helps Mississippi and all Mississippians.
